Morningstar Investment Management LLC Analysis

We are taking Invesco Balanced-Risk Commodity Strategy off watch. The fund had underperfomed in the energy driven commodity resurgence of 2021 and 2022, however performance in 2023 was strong and as expected given the lower risk approach taken by balancing the contribution to risk across commodities. This leads to an underweight in highly volatile natural gas, which collapsed in 2023 and subsequently drove outperformance. Over the long-term this lower risk approach has delivered strong results and given performance is as expected we are taking the strategy off watch.
